

Landmark Properties Builds the American Dream

Landmark Properties Introduces New York's First All-American Home

June 2012- Long Island, NY- Landmark Properties announces the debut of New York State's first All-American Home, The Americana - A 2000 square foot ranch to be situated on a picturesque cul de sac in East Moriches. The Americana will be the first home in New York built entirely from American-made materials.

All are invited to the official launch celebration and groundbreaking event slated for Thursday, June 28th, at 10:30 a.m. State, county, and local officials will be in attendance for the unveiling and ribbon cutting ceremony. This star-spangled event will kick off the July 4th holiday and set in motion Landmark's construction commitment of building exclusively all-American. Press kits will be available at the event.

According to Landmark Properties owner, Mark Baisch, the foundation, the roof, and every nail in between, is manufactured in the USA by American workers. "We are 100% committed to the economic recovery of our country", says Baisch. "If we all do what we can, we're sure to make a significant positive impact."

Baisch says Landmark has always been focused on superior materials and quality craftsmanship so to him, this is the next logical step. Providing the best product for his customers- with the added bonus of helping the economy.
